

Member, MLK Commission

David M. Fryson, Esq. is currently Vice President for West Virginia University's Division of Diversity, Equity & Inclusion. Fryson received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Education from West Virginia State University and was awarded the Doctor of Jurisprudence from West Virginia University. In 2014 he was named a West Virginia Bar Foundation Fellow for his professional, public and private dedication to the welfare of his community and honorable service to the legal profession in West Virginia. He is a dynamic speaker, innovative educator, manager, skilled musician, ordained pastor and an exceptional motivator. He is a continuing columnist with the Charleston Gazette and is also the author of Bitter or Better: The Seven Principles – Why God Allows Adversity in a Believer's Life. David has been married to his wife Joy for 39 years, they have 3 adult children and 3 grandchildren, the family currently resides in Morgantown, WV.

Martin Luther King, Jr.
State Holiday Commission
